

EM-Assist Announces Partnership with Venatus Capital Partners

SACRAMENTO, CA – July 10, 2007 – EM-Assist, Inc., a leading provider of environmental services and training solutions to government clients, announced today that it has partnered with Venatus Capital Partners and Sterling Savings Bank to provide additional capital and resources to support growth initiatives. Jeremy Burr, Managing Partner of Venatus Capital Partners, will join EM-Assist as Chief Executive Officer to focus on strategic growth.

EM-Assist's outstanding achievements have earned it numerous awards, including the Secretary of Defense Annual Environmental Award and the Department of Defense Nunn-Perry Award. EM-Assist, which was founded in 1996 and currently has approximately 120 employees, has also been nationally recognized by Inc. Magazine as one of the top 500 fastest-growing, privately-owned companies in the country. The company is locally recognized as among the Top 50 fastest-growing companies in both Utah and the Sacramento region. EM-Assist is headquartered in Folsom, CA and has multiple offices in California and Utah.

EM-Assist co-founder Dana Curran said, "We credit a large part of our success to our ability to manage rapid growth without compromising our core client-centric culture. Jeremy Burr and Venatus Capital Partners understand and embrace EM-Assist's culture and share our core values and vision, creating a long-term partnership that will strengthen our company and enhance our opportunities."

"EM-Assist's high-caliber management team, dedicated employees, and strong focus on helping its clients accomplish their mission combine to position the company well as a platform for continued growth, both organically and through targeted acquisitions," said Jeremy Burr, who will serve as the company's Chief Executive Officer. "Venatus Capital Partners stands ready to support EM-Assist's rapid growth with additional capital and resources. EM-Assist has a bright future, and we are excited to be a part of it."

Company President Lynn Meland said, "We are excited to have Jeremy joining the team. His background will enable EM-Assist to grow to the next level and help us become an even more effective partner to our clients." Co-founder and Executive Vice President Gregg Alex added, "We've grown more than five-fold over the last four years, and that growth has given our employees the chance to create new opportunities for themselves. This partnership enables us to make investments to accelerate our growth, such as key new hires, which will provide greater opportunities for our staff to find new ways to use their talents and creativity."
